

TWO NEW CASES OF CHOLERA.

Symptoms Again Appear Among the Karamania's Passengers.

Young Boy and a Man Removed to Swinburne Island at Noon.

Two new cases of cholera have developed among the passengers of the Anchor line steamship Karamania, who are quarantined on Hoffman Island, as will be seen by the following bulletin, issued by Health Officer Jenkins at 12:45 today.

QUARANTINE, Aug. 11.—12:45 P. M.—The bacteriological examination of cultures made from the two cases removed yesterday, Francisco Mola and Mariano Ribera, resulted in finding the spores of Asiatic cholera in each case.

Both patients are in the same condition as when removed—no better, no worse.

Two cases were removed from Hoffman Island at noon today to the hospital at Swinburne Island, both showing cholera symptoms.

The bulletin has been held back so that the names could be obtained. They are Antonio Lauriti, aged fifteen years, and Antonio Carbone, aged fifty years.

The Mollia was given pratique at noon today.

WILLIAM F. JENKINS, Health Officer of the Port.

The Mollia came up to Robert's pier, Brooklyn, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. On the pier were a number of friends of the 216 passengers, but a very officious watchman would not allow them to stand within a few yards of the entrance. When the steamer was making her way alongside one man hailed a relative on board, and the watchman informed him that he would kick him off the pier if he spoke to any of the passengers.

The passengers were much superior in appearance to the usual cargoes of Italian immigrants that land here. They were well-dressed and the women were gorgeously attired, red, green and yellow colors predominating.

Capt. Varrier said in an "Evening World" reporter that he had never seen sickness on this, his last voyage from Naples than any other voyage he had made. He said that the passengers were all well and that he had never seen sickness on this, his last voyage from Naples than any other voyage he had made.

NORMANNIA IN PORT.

Last Year's Unfortunate Plague Ship All Right This Time.

QUARANTINE, S. I. Aug. 11.—The Hamburg-American Packet Company's crack express steamer Normannia, Capt. Heibich, from Hamburg Aug. 3, Southampton Aug. 7, arrived at the bar at 2 o'clock this morning after a rather foggy and rough passage of six days, sixteen hours and twenty-five minutes.

She beat her own best time six days sixteen hours and forty-five minutes, from Southampton, by just twenty minutes.

The Normannia brings 112 first cabin, 179 second cabin and 150 steerage passengers, and merchandise consigned to J. J. Cortis. She was released from quarantine at 8:15 and went up to her dock in Hoboken, being entirely free from sickness.

The Normannia's arrival in port today calls to mind her unfortunate experience in quarantine a year ago, when, fortunately, seems not likely to be repeated again this year.

She was the only first-class passenger ship, barring the Gulon liner Wyoming, to bring cholera to this port last year.

MASSILIA OUT OF QUARANTINE.

Passengers Cheer Lustily When Her Anchor Is Weighed.

QUARANTINE, Aug. 11.—Dr. Jenkins released the steamship Massilia, which arrived with 219 Italian emigrants, from the quarantine port of Naples on Monday, at 12:15 this afternoon.

There was great rejoicing among the passengers who congregated on deck and sent up a lusty cheer of thanksgiving as the anchor was raised. The Massilia had been anchored about 200 yards below the Karamania, and when she steamed by the latter vessel her passengers waved their caps and shouted their congratulations, and the vessel could be distinctly heard on shore.

The Massilia was released from quarantine at 12:15 this afternoon. She was the only first-class passenger ship, barring the Gulon liner Wyoming, to bring cholera to this port last year.

ENTERED IN BELLEVUE.

No Cholera Symptoms Have Developed Says Dr. Farrington.

Andre Lampaki, a Russian farmer, and James Maroney, an iron worker of 17 North Moore street, are in Bellevue Hospital, suffering from gastro enteritis.

Both men were taken to Bellevue from the Chambers Street Hospital last night. Farrington, who has them in charge, said he had found no cholera symptoms in either of the men.

Lampaki's case, he said, may be the beginning of an attack of typhoid fever. Maroney's case he was inclined to believe is one of acute dysentery.

THE CHOLERA IN ITALY.

Sanitary Corps for Each Train Between Naples and Rome.

ROME, Aug. 11.—The Government has ordered that a physician and a sanitary corps accompany every train running between Naples and Rome.

All the hotels at Rome have been cleaned and otherwise put in condition to guard against an invasion of cholera.

Sig. Carloni, Director of Posts and Telegraphs, who sent out a number of telegrams, was attacked with cholera a few hours after his arrival and died on the following day.

Boston's Estimated Population.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—The assessors estimate that Boston's population for 1900 will be 650,000. The census return of 1890 gave the city a population of only 416,000.

$30,000 to Chicago and Return via Pennsylvania Railroad, personally conducted coach excursions, Saturday, Aug. 13.

SATOLLI'S VISIT TO THIS CITY.

Archbishop Corrigan Refuses to Talk About Its Purpose.

Archbishop Corrigan has decided to maintain silence in regard to the visit of Monsignor Satolli, the Apostolic delegate, to this city next week. Mr. Satolli will leave Washington on Monday and arrive here the same night. He will be the guest of Archbishop Corrigan, and it is hinted that the visit will be of much significance in its bearing on the affairs of the Roman Catholic Church.

Archbishop Corrigan refused to be interviewed in regard to the visit of Monsignor Satolli. He said, however, that the visit will have something to do with the restoration of the relations between the Vatican and the United States. He said that the visit will be of much significance in its bearing on the affairs of the Roman Catholic Church.

EX-GOV. CAMPBELL PLEADED.

He Smiles and Commends the Nomination of Neal.

Ex-Gov. James E. Campbell, of Ohio, was seen at his office in the Equitable Building this morning and asked what he thought of the Democratic ticket nominated at Cincinnati yesterday, which is headed by Lawrence F. Seal, Ohio's candidate for Governor.

Mr. Seal is an old political foe of the ex-Governor, and an old enemy of the Democratic ticket.

WATSON'S ILLNESS IS TYPHUS.

Manhattan Beach Hotel Yardman on North Brother Island.

Three Employees Who Slept in His Room to Be Isolated.

Robert Watson, the yard man at the Manhattan Beach Hotel who was taken up to North Brother Island yesterday as a typhus suspect, was pronounced today to have the disease beyond question.

The brief proceedings in the Senate yesterday, coming after the action of the day before, indicate that the parties in the Senate are beginning to line up. There is a slight possibility that the Democrats can side on the part of a few liberal members, but generally they have adopted the policy of opposing their opponents in the majority by insisting upon an immediate disposition of the silver question and therefore postponing any action to adjourn and calling for the year and a half to be taken on record.

Chief Inspector Doty, of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, received a telephone message at 10 o'clock this forenoon from Dr. Hubbard, of the Riverside Hospital, stating that Watson had developed the disease and was in a critical condition.

Dr. Doty immediately telegraphed the fact to the proprietors of the Manhattan Beach Hotel, and also notified the health officer of Gravesend of the fact.

Watson had been employed at the Manhattan Beach Hotel since July 19. He was first taken sick last Friday, but kept at his work until Wednesday.

When he became so ill that Dr. Sedley, the inspector, was called in to examine him.

Dr. Sedley immediately telegraphed the fact to the proprietors of the Manhattan Beach Hotel, and also notified the health officer of Gravesend of the fact.
